The biography of a woman who converted to Islam in Canada

Ms Jennah Heydari

Jennah Heydari lives in Ontario, Canada with her husband, Nafe Heydari and her youngest son. She has two sons; the older son is already away in college. She is a book illustrator and is currently working on a children's book that she wrote and has been illustrating about a little girl who wears hijab for the first time "Dhoha's first hijab".

She helps run an online support group called the Revert Muslims Association, currently organized and maintained by some very devoted Muslims. She started this group back in 2005 as a way to keep new Muslims connected, supported and networked with those, more knowledgeable.
